WOMAN IN ESPERANTO ASKS EQUAL RIGHTS

"We expect to have woman suffrage in Germany in less than twenty years, and we are not going to carry on our campaign in any such noisy and violent manner as women have been conducting in America and England," said Mme. Maria Haskell, of Dresden, in a ringing speech in Esperanto before the international society in the ballroom of the Arlington Hotel yesterday.

"Hitherto the high schools of Germany have been closed to girls, and the fact that they were recently opened is one step forward for the cause of women," she continued. "The whole world is now considering the rights of women."

"Germany is working for the same end as other nations, but we choose another way; possibly longer and more circuitous, and requiring more patience, but in the end more certainly successful. In Germany they ask: 'Do you desire the franchise for women?' The reply is: 'Certainly, why not?' They say women cannot judge seriously of political affairs—they are not sufficiently well taught. The universities may be closed to women, but thank goodness, books are open." She went on to say that in Germany, while doubtless, as elsewhere, the men assume the more difficult duties of life, the feminine helper is none the less a necessity, and hence to this end an ample education is fitting.

Dr. Arnold, of Dresden, emphasized the women's suffrage, as did also Mr. Kurrie, delegate from Australia, who explained how well the women's franchise was working in his country. Prof. Rudy, of Raleigh, N. C., closed the discussion.

ESTRADA REACHES MANAGUA'S GATES

Revolutionist Demands the Surrender of Madrid.

Juan J. Estrada and his revolutionists have reached the gates of the palace at Managua, the capital of Nicaragua, and are demanding the surrender of Dr. Jose Madriz, president of the de facto government in Nicaragua, according to a telegram received by Dr. Castillo, the Estrada representative in Washington.

Dr. Castillo states that the main army of the insurgents were checked at the Tipitapa River, the barrier in front of Managua, but that a small detachment succeeded in getting into the city and attacking the defense in the rear. He states that it is but a question of a few hours before the government of all Nicaragua will be under the control of the revolutionists.

Acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson said last night that the department had received no official report of the advance of the revolutionists, but that he was not surprised. He said that if the report was authentic the department would know officially to-day.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—A p. m. Pressure is low over the central and western portions of the country, with an extensive area of depression overlying the Northwest. The unsettled conditions over the Upper Mississippi Valley will drift eastward, attended by showers Sunday in the Upper Ohio Valley, the Southern Upper Lake and Western Lower Lake regions, and extending by Monday into the Eastern Lower Lake region, the Middle Atlantic States, and possibly Southern New England. In the South Atlantic and East Gulf States and the Central and Southern Rocky Mountain regions local thunder showers will continue Sunday and Monday, while in the Central Plains States and the extreme Southwest the weather will be fair with continued high temperature.

It will be warmer Sunday over the central and northern districts east of the Mississippi River, and continue warm Monday.

The winds along the New England coast will be light to moderate southerly; on the Middle Atlantic coast light to moderate southeast to south; on the south Atlantic coast light to moderate east to southeast, except variable on the Florida coast; on the east Gulf coast light and variable; on the west Gulf coast moderate southeast to south; on the Great Lakes moderate southerly.
